DEUS Game-Based Assessment

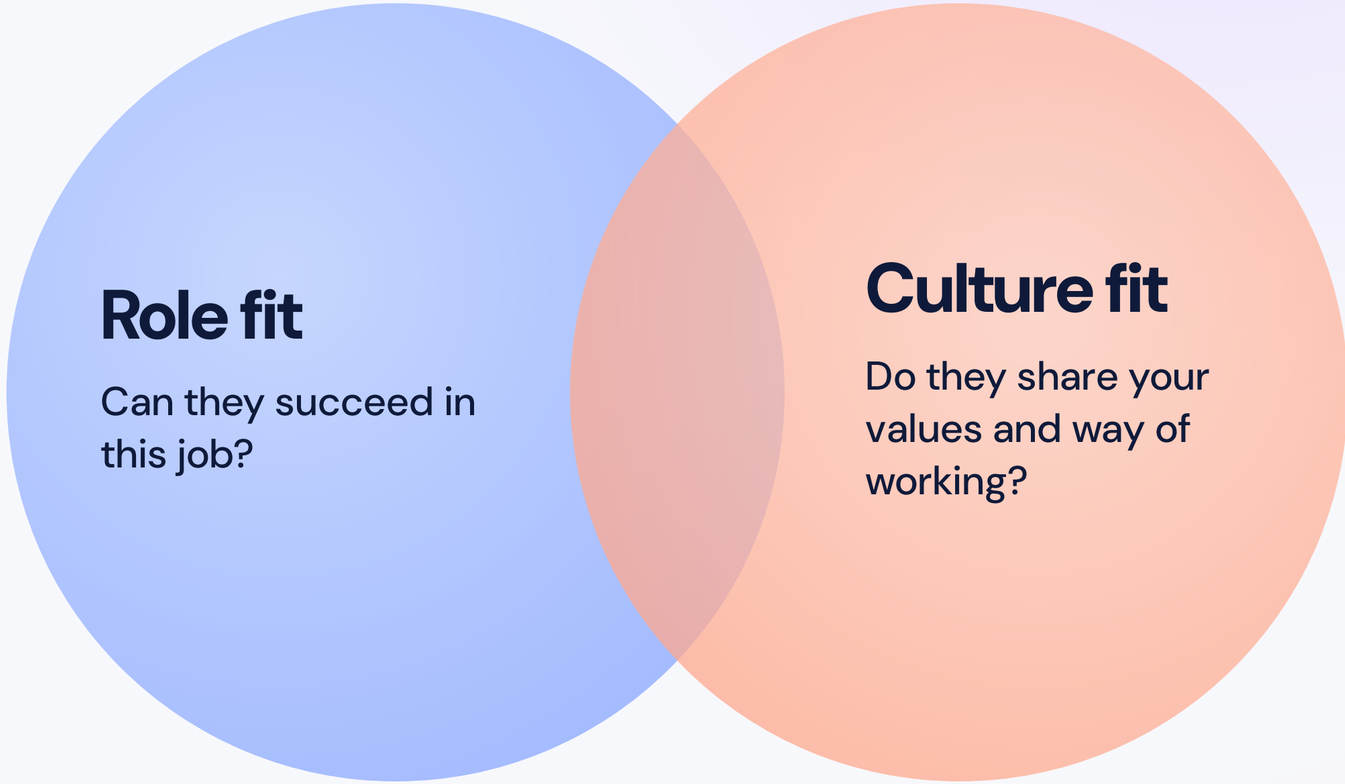

Fit the role, they perform.

Fit your company, they stay.

Today's assessments check if they can do the job. Not if they'll fit, or stay.

- Candidates memorize the answers
- Results aren't tied to your roles or your culture
- Wrong fits leave after you've invested in them

We score each candidate on job fit and culture fit

Your roles + your values → Success profile → Candidates play → Suitability score

Profiles ready in 1 day.

This is what your candidates play.

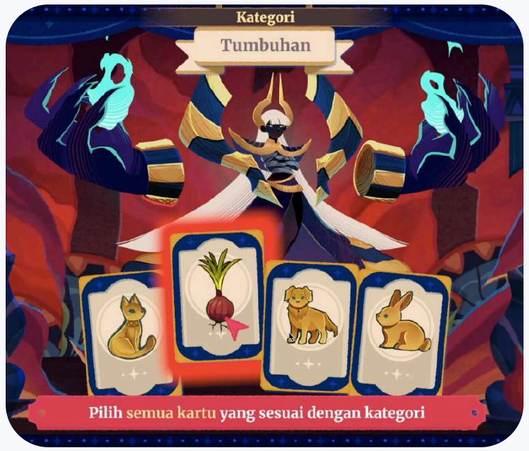

Four games, each measuring something different.

Personality

Work style, values, teamwork

→ Culture fit

Cognitive

Memory, logic, numbers, speed

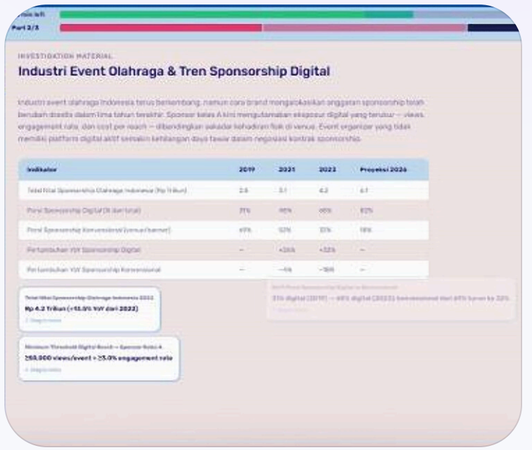

→ Role fit

Drive & Risk

Motivation, risk-taking, reading people

→ What drives them

The science behind the games.

Proven science

Built on the Big Five and established cognitive science.

Built by psychologists

A rigorous four-step process:
theory, items, validation, norming.

Measured against traditional tests

Game validity lines up with established psychological tests.

Established local norms

Benchmarked on thousands of Indonesian candidates. 100% local data.

What changes for your company.

AT Analytical Thinking — Strength

Score: 25 / 25

25/25 — 100%

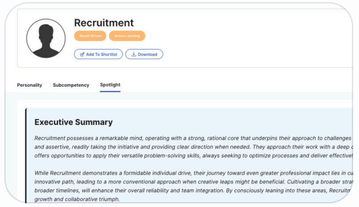

The participant demonstrates outstanding analytical capability. This is evident in deep data reading, recognition of non-obvious patterns and trends, and drawing defensible inferences from available information. Even on questions requiring detailed causal reasoning or simultaneous comparison of multiple data dimensions, answers remain accurate. This depth of analysis is a strong signal of analytical maturity.

RECOMMENDATION

Continue leveraging analytical capability in roles requiring diagnostic reasoning, strategy projects, root-cause investigation, or market analysis. Combine this strength with deeper financial integration practice so the analysis becomes both quantitative and rigorous.
